

The Joy of Being There Dads for Life Contest

PRIVACY POLICY

Dads for Life recognise and respect your need for privacy and security as you visit our site. When you visit our site to view any pages, you do so without revealing any personal information. However, we do use standard software to collect information for the strict purpose of tracking activity on our site. This allows us to better understand how many people use our site and which pages and features are most popular. We do not identify you personally but only collect information relating to the following:

- The technical details relating to your Internet service provider (eg IP address).
- The website that referred you to us (if any).
- The date and time the pages were accessed.
- The page or pages you requested.

When you enter The Joy of Being There Dads for Life Contest, you will be providing us with personal information including name, ID, phone number and email address. This is always at your option; the information is not transmitted to us until you specifically elect to send it to us. This information is used internally only for the purpose of administrating this contest and for contacting you directly if you win. This information is not given or sold to any other organisation.

When you participate in The Joy of Being There Dads for Life Contest by commenting, voting or entering, you will be providing us with information pertaining to your Facebook account including your Facebook profile picture, Facebook profile ID and Facebook profile name. This is also at your option; the information is not transmitted to us until you specifically elect to send it to us. This information is used internally only for the purpose of administrating this contest and is not given or sold to any other organisation.

We reserve the right to change our privacy policy at any time without prior notice. A revised policy statement will be posted on this website.